ABSTRACT

This document summarizes the number of doctoral degrees awarded in the United States between 1920 and 1990 by academic discipline, undergraduate institution, and time period. The data include 914 private, four-year, non-doctoral degree-granting institutions. Individual institutional data are included for a maximum of 360 colleges and universities in the discipline rankings. The document also features a section summarizing total doctoral activities by discipline, gender, and time period, across all institutions in the sample. Analysis of the data indicate that the average number of doctorates granted annually to baccalaureate graduates of private, non-doctoral-granting institutions has dramatically increased in recent years. The fields in which the largest numbers of doctoral degrees were granted include Computer Sciences; Professional/Other Fields; Other Social Sciences (including Area Studies, Criminology, Demography, Geography); Psychology; and Education. Slowest growing fields are History, Mathematics, Physics and Astronomy, and Foreign Languages. Degrees earned by women continue to account for an increasing share of all doctorates. Appendixes contain an alphabetical listing of the 914 institutions, a list of academic fields, and a list of definitions of academic fields. (GLR)

BACCALAUREATE ORIGINS

OF DOCTORATE RECIPIENTS

Introduction

This document is the seventh in a series of reports summarizing the number of doctoral degrees awarded in the United States by academic discipline, undergraduate institution, and time period. The data were obtained from the Office of Scientific and Engineering Personnel of the National Research Council (NRC) and include private, four-year, non-doctoral degree granting institutions (Categories IIA and IIB) as defined by self-report to the American Association of University Professors (AAUP). The institutional rankings by discipline include all persons who received doctoral degrees between the years 1920 and 1990, and between 1981 and 1990. Summary statistics and rankings by discipline are also provided for doctorates granted in 1990. Individual institutional data are included for a maximum of 360 colleges and universities in the discipline rankings. This edition also features a section summarizing total doctoral activity by discipline, gender, and time period, across all institutions in the sample.

A total of 914 colleges and universities are included in this study (see Appendix A for an alphabetical listing of institutions). The sample contains only institutions that: 1) are included in the NRC's data file, 2) are privately controlled, and 3) do not grant a significant number of doctorates (see Appendix B for the complete definitions of AAUP Categories IIA and IIB). Every effort was made to include all appropriate institutions. To achieve this end, the NRC data file was cross-referenced with a recent AAUP institutional classification file provided by Maryse Eymonerie Associates. This edition's sample includes all institutions from the 6th edition sample, except for those that have been subsequently self-identified as neither Category IIA nor IIB. This method produced a very slight change in sample size from 925 institutions in the 6th edition to 914 institutions in the 7th edition. With few exceptions, institutional names and abbreviations have been taken directly from the NRC data file.

The method of ranking institutions tied at a given rank is consistent with recent editions of this report (i.e., ranked positions are skipped following ties in order to reflect the total number of institutions included at that position). In addition, the lowest rank within a field includes all institutions tied at that rank. Finally, the method by which academic fields are aggregated into totals and subtotals is imbedded in the structure of the NRC file and has not changed appreciably from recent editions. These categories are listed in Appendices C and D.

Two cautions are in order for valid interpretation of these data. First, the rankings do not take into account the large number of graduates who receive medical degrees, law degrees, and other professional, non-doctoral degrees. Second, as in previous editions of this report, we have elected not to normalize the data on the basis of institutional size. Persons interested in weighted rankings may refer to other researchers' work (e.g., Carol H. Fuller's report for the Great Lakes Colleges Association in June, 1985 and Alfred E. Hall's article in Change in April, 1984). Readers interested in rankings (both weighted and unweighted) of private doctoral-granting universities may refer to a report entitled "Baccalaureate Origins of Doctorate Recipients 1920 - 1986: A Ranking by Discipline of Doctoral-Granting, Private Universities" published by the Offices of Planning and Institutional Research at Georgetown University and Franklin & Marshall College in April, 1989.

Summary of Results

Consistent with the trends noted in the previous edition of this report, the average number of doctorates granted annually to baccalaureate graduates of private, non-doctoral-granting institutions has increased dramatically in recent years. In the period between 1920 and 1990, an average of 2,878 doctorates were awarded fto these students each year. The fields in which the largest numbers of doctoral degrees were granted between 1920 and 1990 include Education, the Life Sciences, Chemistry, and Psychology. The annual average for the most recent decade (1981-1990) was 5,951, compared to 2,374 for the previous six decades (1920-1980). This increase has occurred in both scientific and nonscientific fields. The fastest growing fields (as determined by percentage change in average annual doctorates granted in the past decade vs. previous decades) are Computer Sciences, Professional/Other Fields (doctorates only), Other Social Sciences (including Area Studies, Criminology, Demography, Geography, Public Policy Studies, Statistics, and Urban Studies), Psychology, Education, and Life Sciences. The slowest growing fields are History, Mathematics, Physics and Astronomy, and Foreign Languages.

Degrees earned by women continue to account for an increasing share of all doctorates. In the 1920-1980 time period, 22% of all doctorates were earned by women, compared to 42% between 1981-1990 and 47% in 1990. Although more men earn doctorates in the sciences than do women, this gap is narrowing. Comparing the proportion of doctorates earned by women in the 1920-1980 period to the 1981-1990 period, the fields in which women made the greatest gains were Education, Other Social Sciences, Anthropology/Sociology, Psychology, and English. Fields demonstrating the slowest progress in granting proportionately more doctorates to women include Computer Sciences, Physics and Astronomy, Mathematics, and Engineering.

Definitions of AAUP Categories

As reported in The Annual Report on the Economic Status of the Profession, Academe, March-April 1992, the AAUP has asked representatives of institutions of higher education in this country to classify their institutions into one of five categories based upon the numbers and types of degrees granted. The classification scheme was created by the National Center for Education Statistics; the AAUP adopted the scheme in 1983-1984. The AAUP offers the following definitions for the two categories of institutions included in this report.

> Category IIA (Comprehensive Institutions). These institutions are characterized by diverse post-baccalaureate programs (including first-professional), but do not engage in significant doctoral-level education. Specifically, this category includes institutions not considered specialized schools in which the number of doctoral-level degrees granted is fewer than thirty or in which fewer than three unrelated disciplines are offered. In addition, these institutions must grant a minimum of thirty post-baccalaureate degrees and either grant degrees in three or more post-baccalaureate programs or, alternatively, have an interdisciplinary program at the post-baccalaureate level.

> Category IIB (General Baccalaureate Institutions). These institutions are characterized by their primary emphasis on general undergraduate baccalaureate-level education. These institutions are not significantly engaged in post-baccalaureate education. Included in this category are institutions which are not considered as specialized and in which the number of post-baccalaureate degrees granted is fewer than thirty or in which fewer than three post-baccalaureate-level programs are offered and which either (a) grant baccalaureate degrees in three or more program areas, or (b) offer a baccalaureate program in interdisciplinary studies.
